DOWN GOES THE STOCK MARKET

Week Opens With Heavy Speculative Liquidation.

The market closed easy, December opened a shade higher at 45 1/2. Weakness of wheat and corn had a depressing effect on the stock market. December opened a shade lower at 2 1/2. Provisions were a trifle easier as a result of a decline in the price of live hogs. Trading was quiet at the close. Lard was down 1/2. Ribs were unchanged at 4 1/2.

SOME SIGNS OF URGENCY.

New York, Sept. 25.—Speculative liquidation today overbore the resistance offered by the stock market through all of last week and carried prices comprehensively to a lower level. The consolidation of the money supply was the impelling cause. The volume of offerings was large and the liquidation at times showed signs of urgency. The day's immediate factors in the money market have been heralded for weeks, but have been disregarded in the operations to advance prices. The tendency of the stock market for many days has been to disregard prospective liquidation and pay attention to nothing but the actual credit of credits in which stock market holdings were involved. Such recent weeks in the month closes with the day by the banks. The conditions of the banks as they stood in the showing of the Saturday bank statement and the heavy credit requirements to be met this week are abundant explanation for the course of the banks in contracting the money. The taking account of the balance sheet on the part of the banks, which was set up again with the opening of the week.

McMillan, of the Star Consolidated, stated yesterday that the shift was down to a point which was reached in the early part of the week, as three feet of water being dammed up in the mine, and the water point would be reached today. It is possible that some cross-cutting will be made to the mine, and the water point would be reached today.
